PHONOGRAPHS and RECORDS,
did you know that an entirely new line of Machines and Records will be on sale October 1st at my store. The NEW Records are no larger, but play
just twice as long as the old records
do. The new phonographs are made so you can play either the old or the new records on them, but that isn't all, any person now having a phonograph can buy one of the new repro-ducers and then you can use either records. Call at my store to get the latest in that line.

RESCUES CHILDREN FROM DROWNING

Donald McLaughlin Rushes to Aid of Voyage Boys when They Break Thru Ice.

Two little sons of Register of Deeds
John Verage had a narrow escape from drowning while walking across the ice on the Wisconsin river under the Davenport street bridge, Sunday afternoon. To Donald McLaughlin
a young man, who attends the Rhinelander Business college, is due the credit for saving the boys' lives.

The little chaps were near the lower end of the island when one of them broke thru the thin ice. His older brother attempted to pull him from the water and he too went down.
Their cries attracted young McLaughlin, who was walking across the bridge
and who seeing their perilous plight,
lost no time in rushing to the rescue.
The water at this place in the stream
is over five feet in depth and the lads sank below the surface.

McLaughlin grabbed the older boy first and brought him to safety. When about to reach for the other brother
the ice broke with McLaughlin casting him into the water. He did not lose his presence of mind however and caught the drowning boy by the hair
just as he came up for the third time.

Thoroughly chilled by contact with the icy water the children were hurried to their home. No ill results followed and the lads, after a change of clothing were none the worse for their experience.

McLaughlin proved himself a hero.
Had it not been for his prompt assistance the little boys would certainly have drowned.

The accident should prove a warning to young people who are tempted to venture on the ice before it is thoroughly safe. At this season of the year the river is not sufficiently frozen over to bear even the weight of a child.

ANOTHER NARROW ESCAPE.

John Greenwood, son of Joe Greenwood, rescued one of his play fellows from drowning, Saturday afternoon.

A number of boys were playing near the boat houses on the ice and little Tommy Ellice, 8 years old, ventured too far and broke thru. The water was over his head and he sank out of sight. When he came up John tried to grab him and fell in also. He succeeded in getting to shore tho, and got a board and threw it to the boy who had gone down the second time.
When he came up he caught the board and held on to it until John reached him and helped him out. The rest of their playfellows ran away.
Both boys were exhausted and young Ellice could hardly walk home.

The boys were relieved of their wet clothes and put to bed by two thankful mothers.

MILWAUKEE HUNTER WOUNDED.

Sportsman Receives Bullet in Shoulder
While in Woods Near Arbor Vitae.

A hunter from Milwaukee was shot and badly injured while in the woods near Arbor Vitae, Monday.

The man whose name we were unable to learn, was going thru the woods on the trail of a deer, when the bullet struck him in the left shoulder making a dangerous wound. The man does not know who fired the shot. Being a long distance from camp the wounded hunter started to walk there but soon grew weak from loss of blood and was compelled to rest. He was found a short time later by his companions. The man's injuries were dressed by Dr. Rosenberry of Arbor Vitae and he left that night for his home in Milwaukee.

PRESENTS "MOTHER GOOSE."

The children of the first grade at the Fifth ward school gave a presentation of "Mother Goose" in the school room Wednesday. The various family nursery characters such as "Queen of Hearts," "Jack and Jill," "Little Jack Horner," "Simple Simon," and many others were taken by the little tots who had been well drilled for the exercises by their teacher, Mrs. Jennie Dean. It proved a very amusing entertainment and something entirely new in the way of Thanksgiving programs.

THIS DEER WAS BLIND.

Strange Hunting Story From Pen of a Nature Faker.

A "nature faker" sends in the following deer story that would compel President Roosevelt to sit up and take notice:

A blind deer was killed near Lac-du Flambeau, Saturday. The animal was a doe and was being lead thru the woods by its mate a monster buck.
Being totally deprived of its sight
the poor animal was able to get about only with difficulty and found its way
by holding the buck's tail in its mouth.

The two deer presented a strange sight. For a time the sportsmen hesi-tated to shoot but the animals made such an easy mark that they were unable to withstand the temptation and fired. The doe at once dropped to the ground, a bullet penetrating its heart, while the buck, badly wounded charged for the hunters.

The men were not slow in moving out of its path and after running only a few yards the wounded animal fell dead. Such a firm hold did the sightless doe have on the buck's tail that part of the appendage was found in its mouth clasped tightly between the teeth. One of the hunting party was a physician, who after examining the eyes of the dead doe, found that a cataract had formed over them causing blindness.

CHURCH DEDICATED; FITTING SERVICES

New Congregational Edifice Is Opened with Addresses By Former Pastors.

The services of commemoration and dedication of the Congregational church last Sunday were carried out in every particular as previously announced.

At the preliminary service Saturday evening Dr. Carter of Beloit spoke especially of the relation of the church to the development of North Wisconsin. Sunday morning at 10:30 a large and representative audience gathered at the commemorative service in celebration of twenty-five years of Congregational activity in Rhinelander. Special music had been prepared by the quartet composed of Mrs. Harry Reeves, Miss Lillian Foster, R. F. Tompkins, and Judge Walker. The address at this service was delivered by Rev. J. H.
Chandler, now of Chicago, who was pastor of the Rhinelander church from 1894 to 1897. Mr. Chandler's address was well received and he was greeted after the service by many friends who have fond memories of his pastorate in this city.

At an informal meeting at 3 o'clock letters of greeting were read from former pastors and others. A letter from Rev. Dwight C. Stone now of Connecticut who preached here in 1886
at the time of the formal organization of the church was read, also a letter from another former pastor, Rev. Wm. L. Bray. He was pastor
in 1891 and 1892. Mr. Bray now resides at St. Charles, Minn. The reading of these letters was followed by short remissent addresses by Mr.
Chandler, and Mr. Wilson; and addresses of greeting were given by Dr.
Carter of Beloit, Rev. S. J. Thirk
of the M. E. Church, and Rev. B. L.
Bergstrom of the Baptist church.

The meeting Sunday evening, the dedicatory service proper, was a fitting climax for the day. The auditorium and the lecture room were both packed; every seat was taken and a good many were obliged to stand during the entire service; even standing room in the main entry was occupied. Out of courtesy some of the sister churches of the city dismissed their services to attend the dedicatory service. After the act of dedication and the dedictory prayer, Rev.
A. G. Wilson gave the address. It was a masterly effort on the part of Mr. Wilson and the large audience listened with marked interest.

MANY JOHNSONS HERE.

Who said Smith was a common name? In Rhinelander there are many Smiths but the Johnsons have them faded. The name Johnson appears in the City Directory just fifty-one times while there are three Johnsons and one Johnstone. The name Smith is in the directory sixteen times. It therefore can be seen that in this City at least the Johnsons are rather numerous.

The sale of the Preston Music Co.
is going on now. It is a great sale.

ARE THROWN FROM THEIR CARRIAGE

Mrs. Shelton and Miss Sedgewick Injured when King Bolt Becomes Loose.

While driving on the Bundy road near the Fenton farm, Saturday afternoon, a carriage occupied by Mrs.
A. W. Shelton, Miss Sedgewick, Mrs.
Hildebrand and daughter Miss Ruby Hildebrand, broke down and the ladies were thrown violently out. Mrs.
Shelton was the most seriously injured of the party. She received several severe bruises about the head and shoulders and for over two hours after accident, was unconscious. Miss Sedgewick also sustained injuries but not of a serious nature. Mrs. Hildebrand and daughter escaped unharmed.

The injured ladies were immediately removed to the farm house and medical aid summoned. Mrs. Shelton was later taken to the home Dr. A. D.
Daniels where she is now confined.
She is gradually recovering from her injuries and the shock of the accident and will be able to leave the house
within a few days. Miss Sedgewick, who is a teacher at the high school,
had recovered sufficiently to be at her post Monday morning.

The accident was caused by the king bolt on the carriage dropping out, overturning the vehicle. The team was going down a hill at the time. When the break down occurred the horses, fortunately, ran only a short distance. Under the circumstances it is strange that the mishap did not result more seriously. The experience proved a trying one and will not soon be forgotten by the ladies.

SUES RAILWAY FOR DAMAGES.

Felix Giroux Injured in 1907 Carries Case to Court.

Frank Bryant left Tuesday morning for St. Paul to be a witness for the Northwestern railway company in a case with Felix Giroux who is suing the company for damages as the result of injuries received by him while attempting to board a passenger train at Woodruff in May 1907. Mr.
Bryant witnessed the accident. Giroux, he says, was slightly intoxicated.
The train was pulling out of the station when the man made an effort to catch it. He grabbed the hand rail of one of the car platforms but slipped and fell underneath the wheels.
His foot was badly cut. There were many people on the depot platform at the time. At first Giroux did not appear as though he had been hurt and it was only after the blood was seen to gush out of his shoe that the bystanders realized that he had met with an accident.

The man now asks for heavy damages and the railway company will bitterly contest the case.

HUNT DEER WITH DOGS.

Game wardens Russell of Wabeno,
and O'Conner of Hancock, Wednesday
arrested six Crandon men for hunting deer with dogs. The party consisted of Matt Evans, Clark Wilson, Henry
C. Johnson, John Wilson, Barney
Faulks and John McMullen. In Judge Patterson's court they pleaded guilty and were fined $25 and costs or 30 days in the Forest County jail. Mc-Mullen and John Wilson paid their fines, the other four going to jail.
The arrests were made upon the Pine
in the northern part of the county.

Deputy Game wardens Oberholzer, Volbrecht and Robrecht nabbed a bunch of violators of the game laws
last Saturday, who were operating between Three Lakes and Hiles—hunting deer with dogs. Before they were taken there was the necessity of gun play by the wardens in order to subdue one obstinate member of the party.—Crandon Republican.

KILLED WHILE HUNTING.

The funeral of U. S. Shaw, who met his death while deer hunting,
was held Thursday at Hazelhurst.

In company with two companions he was tracking a deer. One of the party, who was approaching him stumbled, and at the same time his rifle accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Mr. Shaw just above the heart. He died almost instantly.
Owing to the circumstances of the shooting, Coronor Bolger deemed it not necessary to hold an inquest.
Mr. Shaw was twenty-nine years of age and is survived by a wife and two children. This is the first fatality of the deer hunting season to occur in Oneida county.

HELLO GIRL GETS MIXED.

Plugs Wrong Town But Connects Party
With Same Name.

A more peculiar coincidence in the matter of namesakes has perhaps never been noted than occurred at Monico, the other day when John Green of Appleton was summoned
from the northern deer woods presumably on account of the death of a relative. Green was called to the long distance telephone at Monico, and this is what he heard:

"Hello John, this is Anna. You are to come home at once. George died suddenly this morning."

Mr Green neglected to make further inquiry, hung up the receiver, and made haste to catch the first train for Appleton.

Arriving there he learned that he was not the John Green who was wanted at the telephone at Monico, but a John Green who is station and express agent at that place. He learned also that the long distance message instead of being from Appleton was from Rhinelander, and the woman who said she was Anna was not his relative whose first name is Anna, but another Anna of Rhinelander. And lastly he learned that the George who died suddenly was not the Appleton man, but a George whose home was in Merrill.

LUMBERMEN WILL OPERATE HEAVILY

Coming winter will witness Much Activity in the Northern woods.

On account of the forest fires last fall large tracts of timber will be cut this winter. Such big logging firms as Stearns Lumber company, of Odan-ah and the Atwood and Toddies companies of Park Falls, whose extensive holdings have been greatly damaged by forest fires are forced to cut and log as much timber as possible on their burned over lands, regardless of cost in order to save it. This requires many hands as well as teams which creates a tendency to raise the price of work in the woods. There is not much demand for lumber at present and it is very probable that the price
of lumber will not advance very soon,
but the timber on burned over lands must be cut and manufactured to keep from spoiling.

In this locality many farmers and small owners have suffered from forest fires and will be compelled to cut much timber which would have remained standing otherwise. It may also be assumed that the price of logs will be considerably lower than last year owing to the fires. Farmers will be obliged to log their burned over timber and sell it at whatever price
the manufacturer is willing to pay.
Among the Rhinelander firms that will conduct logging operations this winter are the Brown Brothers Lumber company, Stevens Lumber Company and Robbins Lumber company.
The Yawkey-Bissell Lumber company at Hazelhurst will also operate heavily.

JOHN OFFERS THANKS.

John Reardon, the well known druggist, when asked what he was thankful for this year expressed himself to the New North man as follows:

"What I am thankful for? That the water in the Wisconsin river does not flow up-stream. That ice does not continue to freeze all summer. That deer-hunting is limited to twenty days, thus allowing me to fish and hunt the rest of the time. That book agents and negro school solicitors never slight me. That turkeys are cheap and potatoes are high. And that the cook thinks she will change her mind and stay another week."

NEW POSTAGE STAMP OUT.

The new postage stamps just issued by the government have been placed on sale. The Rhinelander post office has not yet received any of the stamps
as at present the office is well supplied with the old variety. The denominations of the new stamps are 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 13, 15, 50 cents and $1.00.
On the one cent stamp is the head of Benjamin Franklin in profile from Houston's bust. All the other denominations bear the head of George Washington in profile from Houston's bust. The border designs of all the denominations are identical, the head being an ellipse on end, with laurel leaves on either side. The size of the stamps is the same as those in us heretofore.

ACTUAL STARVATION.

The B. M. Hyde Drug Co. Give Facts Regarding Dyspepsia.

Although indigestion and dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good-looking, good-smelling and good-tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

Dieting cannot cure dyspepsia. If we refuse every article of food that disagrees with us, before long we have nothing left and find ourselves chronic dyspeptics.

We can cure dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee a cure, and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to everyone who will use it, who is perfectly satisfied with the results it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here in Rhinelander, and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one in Rhinelander who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and get a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial according to directions. They are very pleasant to take; they soothe the irritable stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, promote a healthy and natural bowel action, immediately relieve nausea and all stomach irritation, produce perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation, and promote nutrition.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases we have two larger sizes which sell for 45c. and 80c.—J. J. Reardon, Rhinelander, Wis.

BUSINESS AT DAIRY INCREASES.

Business at the McLaughlin Dairy has increased to such an extent during the last year that in order to properly attend to customers another delivery wagon is about to be placed on the milk route.

The dairy, which is one of the largest in northern Wisconsin, is located two miles south west of the City and is owned and managed by Frank McLaughlin and son Vern. Employment is given to five men who are kept busy caring for and milking a herd of forty cows. Among the improvements soon to be installed at the dairy will be a new patent milking machine that will milk several cows at the same time. Hundreds of families in this City are daily supplied with milk and cream from the McLaughlin Dairy.

You can leave your orders for fresh candy at Kirk's Candy Kitchen they will fill it on short notice.

FROM NEARBY TOWNS.

Rib Lake—The big sole leather tannery owned by the United States Leather company has resumed operations after having been closed over a year. The plant gives employment to a big force of men in all departments and is a great help to this village and the surrounding country.

Ashland—The fishing industry this year will be the lightest that the Apostle Islands have witnessed for many seasons. The financial troubles of the Booth Packing Company have left that concern so that they are curtailing their work instead of enlarging their operations, and they will practically do no business in the fishing line at Bayfield this year.

Merrill—Chas. J. McCord, who is interested in the matter of his mother, Mrs. Anna McCord, who is suing for her dower rights on properties once owned by Myron H. McCord and transferred to other persons without her consent, reports that about thirty of the forty suits that have been commenced against the owners have been settled on the basis of 50 cents on the dollar, but after the first of the month all will be settled at the original amount.

Tomahawk—The Bradley company's sawmill resumed operations, Saturday and the Oelhafer mill will start in about two weeks. Both plants have been closed for some time.

Ashland—Gorebic range ore shipments from Ashland last week were 21,028 tons from the Wisconsin Central docks, and 124,001 tons from the Northwestern docks. The season's shipments up to Sunday handled by the two railroads named were 530,655 and 1,804,518 tons respectively.

Marshfield—To ascertain whether it can be used to advantage as a substitute for mahogany the Roddis Veneer Company cut a twelve foot piece of Koa timber sent here from Hawaii into veneer. This tree is of the same family as mahogany but the lumber can be laid down much cheaper.

Superior—While the ship yards here do not expect any new work this winter, it is confidently expected that the repair work will be heavier than in the previous seasons on account of the larger number of boats that will tie up here to be ready to take ore cargoes down the lakes as soon as navigation opens next spring.

Niagara—The club house being erected by the Kimberly-Clark company is expected to be ready for occupancy before the holidays.

Ironwood—By falling down a shaft of the Newport mine, a distance of 120 feet, Charles Henry Clemens, a well known young man of this City, was instantly killed.

Park Falls—Frank Colgrath of Melton committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear with a razor. A one hundred dollar bill some small change and a flask of whiskey were found on his clothing. Domestic troubles are supposed to have been the cause. He leaves a wife and two children.

Wausau—Wausau is one of four cities in this state being considered for the location of a Lutheran girls' college. Fond du Lac, Green Bay and Racine are also under consideration.

Ladysmith—Frank Hanns who, fell off the foot board of the paper machine in the mill of the Menasha Paper company here and was carried four times around the felt tightener roller, will live. Had he been carried crosswise instead of lengthwise of the roller he undoubtedly would have been killed.

A Methodist Minister Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years for diarrhoea. I consider it the best remedy I have ever tried for that trouble. I bought a bottle of it a few days ago from our druggist, Mr. R. R. Brooks. I shall ever be glad to speak a word in its praise when I have the opportunity."

HAZELHURST PHYSICIAN WEDS.

The society event of last week at Grand Rapids was the marriage of Mrs. Marian Vandyke of that city and Dr. Jacob Selberth of Hazelhurst, which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Caroline Haskinson.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Blakesley of St. John's Episcopal church. The bridal party consisted of Dr. Selberth and his best man, Edward Behlke of Hazelhurst, Marian Plat of Riverside, Ill., Mrs. Simmons as matron of honor and the bride on the arm of her brother, J. E. MacKinnon. The bride and groom will be at home at Hazelhurst after December 15.

MINE HOST, CLAUDE SHEPARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shepard have moved to Monico where they will assume charge of the Northern Hotel for Sheriff-elect Frank Jilson, who is about to come to Rhinelander to reside. Kirby Jilson, brother of the new sheriff, will also remain at the hotel and assist in its management. The Northern is the leading hotel at Monico and one of the best in this part of the state. In selecting Claude to look after the property, Mr. Jilson could not have secured a better man. He is a genial young fellow, popular among his acquaintances and is certain to make an ideal landlord.

CHRISTMAS NUMBER

You should read "The Woman's Invasion"; it's powerful and disturbing, but it's your business, and bound to come home to you—man or woman. And you should see "The Child's Christmas Tree," sparkling color and verse, almost a complete little gift-book in itself. There's the makings of a sermon, a speech, a laugh, or a debate in every number of Everybody's.

WARM WELCOME AWAITS RETURN OF "QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER."

Now and then the theatre-goer finds a play that he would rather see again than an entirely new one. Such plays are not written very often but once in a great while they make their appearance and they live on for many years. "Quincy Adams Sawyer" the great rural drama success, which is remembered as a most decided hit when seen here before, is a play that one has a taste for seeing again, and its return to this City at the Opera House Tuesday December 1st will be hailed with genuine delight. It is fully expected that this New England play, dramatized from Mr. Pidgeon's widely read book of the same name, will prove even more popular than before. It has the advantage of coming with the stamp of a New York run and the approval of crowded houses nightly at the Academy of Music in that City. A number of improvements have been made in the mechanical effects, and the scenery is almost entirely new.

WOMAN KILLS LARGE DEER.

The honor of killing the largest deer brought down in Northern Wisconsin belongs to Mrs. B. L. Bertschy of Milwaukee. The animal, a buck, weighed two hundred and sixty pounds. As far as known thru the northern country this is the best record of any woman hunter to date. Mrs. Bertschy showed remarkable nerve in standing her ground as the buck dashed toward her and fell within a dozen feet of the log upon which she was sitting, after receiving its first wound.

A BAPTIST ELDER

Restored to Health by Vinol

"I was run down and weak from indigestion and general debility, also suffered from vertigo. I saw a cod liver preparation called Vinol advertised and decided to give it a trial, and the results were most gratifying. After taking two bottles I regained my strength and am now feeling unusually well." Henry Cunningham, Elder Baptist Church, Kingston, N. C.

Vinol is not a patent medicine—but a preparation composed of the medicinal elements of cods' livers, combined with a tonic iron and wine. Vinol creates a hearty appetite, tones up the organs of digestion and makes rich, red blood. In this natural manner, Vinol creates strength for the run-down, over-worked and debilitated, and for delicate children and old people. For chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis Vinol is unequalled.

All such persons in this vicinity are asked to try Vinol on our offer to refund their money if it fails to give satisfaction.

Congressman Morse has notified all boys desiring to enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis, that Professor Parlin, Principal of the Wausau High School, will give the examination on Friday, Dec. 4th, and he has requested all boys who desire to take this examination to present themselves there at Wausau. There are few candidates for this position and it is quite likely that every one who goes will receive an appointment either as principal or alternate.

Don't wait until the holiday rush but have your photo taken now at the Krueger Gallery.

Since Saturday the local markets have been well supplied with a choice assortment of Thanksgiving poultry. Turkeys, ducks, geese and chickens have appeared to be plentiful. Geese and chickens have been selling for fifteen cents per pound while turkey has commanded twenty-two cents. Most of this poultry is shipped into Rhinelander from the farming districts in the southern part of the state. Clintonville contributes largely to the supply.

LA FOLLETTE'S NEW PAPER.

Senator Robert M. La Follette's new weekly paper will make its initial appearance during the first week in January. This announcement was made yesterday by F. M. McKenzie, managing editor, who was in the city.

Mr. McKenzie said there had been some delay in launching the publication, but that all plans for publishing the first number during the first week in January had been completed. He said the paper would probably be of sixteen pages at the beginning and the size would probably be 9 x 12 inches, and that it was expected no less than 100,000 would be issued at the beginning, as subscriptions were coming in rapidly.

Mr. McKenzie said it might be necessary later to move the office to Milwaukee because of printing facilities.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

The faces of most of the voters give evidence that they are thankful that William H. Taft is the president-elect.

The New North is thankful for the liberal patronage given it; thankful that its many readers believe in its principles, swear by its honesty and glory in its independence; thankful that the people in this vicinity appreciate the fact that The New North is always working for the best interests of our city and citizens.

It is reported that speaker Cannon is for tariff revision or rather he says—The American people will get the kind of tariff revision they cast their ballots for and the house is capable of electing its own speaker. If Mr. Cannon does not show a disposition to carry out tariff revision along the lines laid down by President elect Taft he may learn a lesson, but too late.

To-morrow is Thanksgiving and in one form or another is as old as the nations. The people of the United States take it directly from our New England forefathers who after enduring many hardships for their religion gave thanks and feasted. We see no reason why we should not do likewise. If the New Englanders had reason to be thankful how much more reason have we who not only have sufficient food and clothing but all the comforts necessary. Let us give thanks, rejoice and celebrate.

The action of the Milwaukee school board last Monday evening in abolishing high school secret societies and instructing the high school principals to expel pupils who persist in retaining membership in such societies is the same assurance that we have had many times lately that the school board and the superintendent and teachers have control over the action of pupils out of school hours so far as their conduct affects the welfare of the school and it is right. The school could not be a success otherwise.

Yesterday, Governor Albert B. Cummins was elected at the special session of the Iowa state legislature to fill the vacancy in the U. S. Senate caused by the death of the late Senator Allison. Another progressive is added to the U. S. Senate.

Governor Cummins has as clearly pushed for progression in his state as has LaFollette in Wisconsin. Lieutenant Governor Garst takes the position as Governor of Iowa for the remainder of the term.

Carl Krueger, supervisor of assessments, will resign his office at the annual meeting of the county board next week to fill the office of county treasurer to which he was elected Nov. 3. Mr. Krueger is serving his second term as supervisor of assessments and will enter upon his duties as county treasurer for his second term. The only man who has served as supervisor of assessments aside from Mr. Krueger is W. B. LaSalle. Mr. LaSalle is a painstaking man, makes splendid official and we would like to see him elected to the office. We know nothing of Mr. LaSalle's plans but we do know he makes a splendid county official and he would have an advantage in this office having previously done the work.

DO YOUR SHOPPING NOW.

Rhineland merchants have made large purchases of holiday goods in anticipation of a heavy Christmas trade. It is to be remembered that December 25 is only three weeks away and shoppers should not wait until the last minute to do their trading. The early buyers will get the selection of the best goods and the clerks in the various stores will have more time to devote to customers. There is always a steady rush during the holiday week and the merchants find it impossible at that time to give the desired attention to each individual patron.

TRAMPS' THANKSGIVING.

How New York's Hoboes Get Their Holiday Dinners.

A great deal depends on the kind of man who wishes to take part in the feasting, wrote the late Josiah Flint in Good Housekeeping. A panhandler from the Bowery will have a harder time finding his Thanksgiving dinner than will a well dressed hobo from the west. In general, the panhandler has to remain content with the same simple fare on holidays that he is accustomed to the year through. The well dressed and skilled beggar, on the other hand, expects and looks for delicacies on festive days. He may have to look a long while before he finds all that he thinks he is entitled to, but the genuine seeker perseveres until he believes that he has celebrated the day as a man of his parts should.

The favorite procedure for a great many roadsters is first to beg for money with which to buy the materials for a feast and then to cook the meal themselves at some improvised camp or "hangout." This is the great delight of a number of western tramps. Some days before the holiday is due they begin to save up their spare pennies for the coming "gorge," or "scoff," as it is also called. Perhaps there is a party of them together, and they combine their forces and funds.

Many of them can cook fairly well, and all lend some assistance in preparing the meal. One attends to carrying the water, another arranges the different purchases so that they can be handily reached, while others assist in making the fire and attending to the actual cooking. The men who are not chiefs sit around the fire, smack their lips and swap stories about the places they were in the year before. Perhaps some man will be reminded of having been in jail the year before. He tells about the poor "feed" that he received and how he scolded against fate and the law for having shut him up on such an occasion. Another man will remember how he was in the far west where there was no meal at all. Still another will recall how he thought of reforming and had practically made up his mind to go to work when some housewife tempted him with a fine Thanksgiving "set down," and his good resolutions went to pieces.

CARVING THE TURKEY.

Some Suggestions For the Man Who Wields the Knife.

A few suggestions on carving probably will not be amiss and may save the fresh Thanksgiving table linen from desecration by splashes of gravy.

First, then, let the carver plunge the fork firmly into the breast of the turkey. He must have a sure hold of the breastbone if he would operate successfully. Let him then cut off the wing nearest him, which is done by passing the knife underneath the socket and is easily accomplished if the bird be young and tender.

Remove the leg on the same side in the same manner, pressing the bone outward while making the cut. Separate the first and second joints of the leg and next remove the side bone by running the knife along the backbone and close to it. It is attached only by a filament of skin and fat; hence this task is not difficult.

Legs and wings being removed, the slicing of the breast is a simple matter, and this opens the cavity, from which filling may be removed with a spoon. The removal of the leg usually makes another opening, to be utilized in the same manner.

Be sure you have a well sharpened knife.

If you cannot succeed in dismembering it gracefully, don't be too sure that the toughness of the turkey is to blame. A good after dinner speaker is more frequently met with than a good carver.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Thanksgiving on the Reservation.

The spirit of thankfulness pervades the Indian Thanksgiving celebration. A Thanksgiving feast is enjoyed, and at night some of the reservation tribes take part in a "green corn dance," at which thanks are offered to the Great Spirit for the good crops of the year. The Ojibwas usually hold a big feast at Pawluskia, their capital city. The festivities are participated in by the entire tribe, and the missionary who lives in their midst and ministers to them offers a prayer of thanksgiving for the good things provided.

The Example.

Mr. Pitt—The United States sets an example to Europe every Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Penn—That's true. They don't have Thanksgiving days in Europe, but then they haven't so much to be thankful for.

"Wasn't thinking of that feature of it."

"What were you thinking of?"

"Of the dismemberment of Turkey."

The Roman Cerealia.

With the idea of returning thanks for a bounteous harvest the warlike Romans set apart some days in the autumn of each year for what they termed the Cerealia in honor of the goddess Ceres. This observance is said to be as ancient as the reign of Romulus and was altogether an outdoor frolic. There were gay processions to the fields and rustic merry-makings, alluded to by the poet Virgil.

Thanksgiving Tip.

If the second joint may be considered a second joint in any sense other than anatomically it is so close a second that it may always be successfully played for a place on the race track of epicurean prestige and hilarity.—Judge.

SENATOR ROEHR SERIOUSLY SHOT

Prominent Milwaukee Man Meets With Accident while Hunting Near Minocqua, Monday.

State Senator Julius E. Roehr, prominent in Milwaukee as a lawyer and member of the Legislature, was shot and seriously injured, while hunting on Monday afternoon near Minocqua. The shot took effect in the left shoulder, and it is learned that Senator Roehr's condition is serious.

With Chief of Police John T. Jansen, Senator Roehr and several friends were hunting in the northern woods.

Particulars as to the accidental shooting of Senator Roehr are meagre. It is learned, however, that he was struck by a stray shot from the weapon of one of the careless hunters constantly in the woods.

The left shoulder was seriously shattered, and the victim of the accident was placed on a train on Monday night and brought to Milwaukee. He was hurried to a hospital there where everything possible is now being done for his recovery and comfort.

Senator Roehr and Chief of Police Jansen were the only Milwaukee men in the party. The accident occurred near Trout Lake, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, while the party was out hunting. It is believed one of the members shot Senator Roehr.

At the Milwaukee hospital, where Senator Roehr is a patient, it is said the patient is in full possession of his faculties but that he is suffering considerably. Dr. William Mackie has been attending to him from the time he reached that city with his hunting partners.

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS.

Rhineland, Wis., Nov. 10, 1908. Office of County Clerk,

County of Oneida. Board of Supervisors of Oneida County met in Annual Session. Meeting called to order by Chairman Arthur Taylor. Roll call the following members were present: Barlow, Bolger, Coniff, Dunn, Federer, Knapp, John Meyer, Plehl, Strangstad, Sholtz Whipple and Taylor.

Moved and seconded that the minutes of the previous meeting be dispensed with until the next meeting. Carried.

The following resolution was read: Resolved by the County Board of Supervisors of Oneida County, that the money in the building fund known as the Court House Fund, now on deposit to the credit of the County Treasurer, as well as all the money hereafter appropriated and collected for said fund, be taken out of the Treasury of said County and from the custody of the Treasurer of said County, and that the same be deposited in the First National Bank and Merchants State Bank of Rhineland, in as nearly equal proportions as practicable, and that the same be paid out by said banks upon the vouchers of the Building Committee.

Offered by, Wm. B. Whipple, Sup.

Moved by Supervisor Whipple and seconded by Supervisor Federer that the resolution be adopted as read. Carried all voting aye.

Moved by Supervisor Bolger and seconded by Supervisor Coniff that the County Treasurer be notified that said money be withdrawn from County Treasury and placed to the credit of the Building Committee. Carried all voting aye.

Moved by Supervisor Federer and seconded by Supervisor Bolger that a Committee of three be appointed to check up the Building Committee each month. Carried all voting aye, and the Chairman appointed Supervisor Knapp, Federer, and Dunn as such Committee.

Moved by Supervisor Plehl and seconded by Supervisor Knapp that a trial vote of the members present from the Towns be taken in relation to the fill contemplated in place of a bridge at Minocqua in order that the Supervisor of Minocqua can inform the other members not present that the town members would stand by the Supervisor from Minocqua for a fill instead of a fill bridge. Motion carried all of the supervisors voting aye.

On motion Board adjourned until Nov. 30th 1908 at 2 P. M.

Wm. W. CARL, County Clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hilgermann have returned from their wedding tour thru the west.

DAN GAGEN DEAD.

Dan Gagen, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of northern Wisconsin, died at his home at Three Lakes, Wednesday afternoon. A wife and two sons, James and Henry, survive him. He will be greatly missed by his friends and acquaintances. He passed away after many months of suffering with stomach trouble. Dan Gagen had spent a half century or more in this part of the state, having settled near Three Lakes in the early sixties and was a very prominent and popular man in the early public affairs of Three Lakes and the town of Gagen.

The funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

Misses Hazel and Olive Bartlett are ill with scarlet fever.

John Masterson has taken a position with Dan Snea at Mercer.

James and Walter Erick have recovered from a long illness with typhoid fever.

A. W. Crusoe of Crusoe's Dept. store returned Sunday from a successful deer hunt near Winchester.

Messrs. Horn and Porter have opened a photograph gallery in the Welsens building on Brown street.

Stanley Deltz, son of John Deltz, hero of Cameron Dam, died Saturday of black diphtheria. Leslie, an 18 year old brother, is ill with the same disease.

The city schools closed Wednesday afternoon for the remainder of the week. Many of the teachers will spend their vacation at their homes throughout the state.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Freeman will eat Thanksgiving dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Sawyer at Arbor Vitae.

REAL FATHER OF HIS CITY.

Busy French Mayor Who Has Been in Office 31 Years Re-Elected.

It set some politicians and others thinking last Memorial day when Kingston, N. Y., in honoring the memory of Gov. George Clinton, pointed with pride to the fact that he had held the office of county clerk of Ulster county for 62 years, not relinquishing the post even when serving as governor or as vice-president of the United States. But there are modern instances of long office holding in elective communities, and one of them came to light in the last election in the Commune of Serigny, in France. Henri Lehoux has been mayor of Serigny for 31 years and he has just been re-elected. Moreover, his election was almost unanimous, for out of 100 votes in his small commune he received 97.

It is said of him that he has made no enemies in his long service as head of his commune, but his record contradicts the adage that a man who never makes mistakes or enemies never makes anything. For Mayor Lehoux executes all the acts of state, so to speak, himself.

He makes out all civil papers. He distributes official aid and attends to all benevolent work of the commune. Furthermore, he is economical and for many years he has dispensed with the services of a secretary.

"A sage and a fortunate man" is the comment of his fellow countrymen.

Time for a Change.

In a recently published book by Rudolph Tyralt entitled "Recollections of Josephine Gallmeyer," many stories are told showing the natural wit of the stage artist who is remembered in New York by all those people who patronized the German theater 25 years ago. The writer tells the following anecdote: At the Laube jubilee dinner which took place in Vienna Gallmeyer sat next to Hans Makart, who was known not only as a great artist, but as a silent man. When the dinner had been going about an hour and Makart had yet to say the first word, except in answer to questions, Gallmeyer slapped him on the back and said: "Now, dear Makart, let's change the subject."

TWENTIETH CENTURY RETAILING FINDS ITS BEST EXPRESSION IN THIS STORE.

Sounds a little conceited perhaps for us to say so, but we believe it thoroughly. We are always aiming to make this a better and more satisfactory trading place for the people of this community and surrounding country, and are glad to say we are succeeding. Our large patronage and steady gain of new customers proves this. The more goods we sell the more we can buy, and thus secure better prices and discounts.

Our policy of a large business at a small profit nets us as much as the small business of the other fellow at large profits.

If you want to gain the benefit of all this its easy enough, just buy here your Table Linens, Napkins, Fancy Doilies, etc., and Furs, Coats, Dress Goods, Shoes, Hose and Underwear.

MY OWN FAMILY USE PE-RU-NA.

HON. GEORGE W. HONEY.
Hon. George W. Honey, National Chaplain U. V. U., ex-Chaplain Fourth Wisconsin Cavalry, ex-Treasurer State of Wisconsin, and ex-Quartermaster General State of Texas G. A. R., writes from 1700 First St., N. E., Washington, D. C. as follows:

"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhal troubles in their various forms. Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results. When other remedies failed, Peruna proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Mr. Fred L. Hebard, for nine years a leading photographer of Kansas City, Mo., located at the northeast corner of 12th and Grand Aves., cheerfully gives the following testimony: "It is a proven fact that Peruna will cure catarrh and grippe, and as a tonic it has no equal. Druggists have tried to make me take something else 'just as good,' but Peruna is good enough for me."

Pe-ru-na is Tablet Form.
For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets, which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna.

MANY YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED

Four Popular Couples Are Joined In Holy Bonds Of Matrimony.

At the Odd Fellows hall on Stevens street, Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, there took place the wedding of Miss Harriet Sweet and Charles E. Morrill, two Rhinelander young people. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. J. Tink, pastor of the M. E. church. The bride was attended by Miss Anna Leu, and Walter Morrill, brother of the groom, was best man. A large number of relatives and friends of the young folks were in attendance. Following the marriage a banquet was served in the hall. Covers were laid for seventy.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Sweet, old residents of this city. She has resided here nearly all her life and has won many friends.

Mr. Morrill is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morrill. He is a graduate of the Rhinelander High school and is now engaged in the music business on Brown street. He is a highly estimable young man popular among his friends and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrill have commenced house-keeping at 609 Arbutus street. Friends extend congratulations.

Miss Eva Margine and Mr. Lynn Vaughan, sheriff of Oneida county, were married at 8:30 yesterday morning by Dr. Leinfelder of St. Mary's church. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Durkee.

The bride has resided in Rhinelander several years. She is a popular young lady who enjoys a wide acquaintance and is esteemed by all who know her.

Mr. Vaughan is a well known young man who has grown to manhood in this city. He has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan will make their home in the sheriff's quarters at the county jail. After the holidays they intend to leave for an extended tour of the West.

At St. Mary's church Wednesday morning, Miss Mary Shepard of this city and John Hanson of Eau Claire were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Dr. Leinfelder performed the ceremony. Miss Bessie Shepard, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the groomsmen was Otto Olson of Tomahawk. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shepard at 527 Thayer Street where they partook of an elaborate luncheon. The operators at the Rhinelander telephone exchange and their gentlemen friends were present.

The bride, has resided in this city practically all her life and until recently was chief operator at the local telephone exchange. Her lady like manner has won for her a large number of friends. She was a most obliging operator and will be greatly missed by the patrons of the Telephone company.

Mr. Hanson is a well known stone mason, who during the last summer was employed on the building of the new city hall. During his short residence here he has made a large acquaintance.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will reside at the Shepard home but will later commence housekeeping in this city.

Miss Gerhart and Guy Dally of this city were united in marriage Monday evening by Rev. S. J. Tink at the Methodist parsonage. Both young people are well known in the city and have many friends who extend congratulations.

COLONY AT WOODBORO.

John J. Kempf and others of Milwaukee have purchased of the Alexander Stewart Lumber Co. a 10,000 acre tract of land lying in the Town of Woodboro, which they expect to colonize the coming spring. The same parties are now negotiating with Mr. O. A. Jenne for about 8,000 acres adjoining which will bring a large colonization in the town of Woodboro. This is a step in the right direction, and every good citizen of Oneida county should feel interested in a project of this kind.

Notice to the Public

WE, the undersigned, P. N. Hammer and Emil Johnson, doing business under the firm name of HAMMER & JOHNSON, desire to express our thanks to our patrons who have traded with us as individuals in the past, and trust that by honest treatment and fair dealing coupled with the best line of Groceries money can buy, to merit a continuance of the patronage at the Shepard building on Davenport street.

Respectfully,

P. N. HAMMER & EMIL JOHNSON.

TO THE BUYER

We are aware that within the past two weeks the large mail order houses have again flooded the surrounding country with their bargain lists on storm sash, storm doors, moulding, etc.

NOW TO THE POINT

We are in the sash and door business here, and stand ready to meet any price quoted by any mail order house in the country. If you are in doubt—bring your price list along and we can soon convince you.

We have kept pretty close tab on mail order lists for some time and know that we have always sold our goods below what these lists quoted. Get our prices first and if you are not convinced that we can give you a better price and better goods for the money, then we shall be satisfied to have you trade elsewhere.

There Is No Economy in Buying by Mail

WHY

Because few stove buyers stop to think of the risk they run in buying a stove by mail on the unsight unseen plan. They are caught by extravagant claims of far away unknown makers who try to make it appear that the local merchant is asking extortionate prices. If buyers will remember that whatever you buy or wherever you buy it, you only get what you pay for, you will not be fooled by such claims. Thousands of stove buyers who have purchased a stove from mail order houses can tell you they were deluded by the "something for nothing" bait and paid dearly for an inferior unsatisfactory article.

We Want You to Call and See Our Stock and Learn Our Prices.

We will soon convince you that we offer you the best values in stoves, and that the economy order buying is a delusion and snare. Learn both sides of the story and if we cannot demonstrate the TRUTH of our assertions, buy elsewhere and there will be no hard feelings, as you have given your local dealers the chance to convince you that he is giving you full value for your money.

THE TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS

When physicians and sufferers from consumption learned that the disease was being cured in Colorado, California and various southern states, it was believed that the cures were due to a wonderful but not understood property of the climate or atmosphere. People from all over the country flocked west and south, people of wealth and people who had insufficient means to pay for the ordinary necessities of life. The latter were often depending upon the small income from such work as they could pick up, a hopeful outlook that has cost untold suffering and want.

It has been found since, that it wasn't the climate that made cures possible but it was the open out-door life. In the earlier experience of the German sanatoria, later in the Adirondack Mountains and now in all parts of the northern half of the United States, it has been positively proven that instead of winter treatment being impossible in the very cold sections, it has on the contrary been proven that the winter results are if anything better than the summer.

The experience has been that the invigorating cold has a tonic effect as apparent in the out-door living consumptive as in those who are in ordinary good health, and it is a common experience that the northerner almost invariably feels more vigorous during the winter than during the summer. The consideration that those cured in this climate can remain in this climate, is of the greatest practical importance to the normal family.

The south and west no longer welcome the consumptive—some communities have been so burdened that they have passed stringent exclusive laws for their own protection and otherwise discouraged in every possible way, the advent of the health seeker. Other communities, which exist only on the revenue of patients, have often been so infected by careless and unrestrained spitters that available rooms and residences are absolutely unfit for habitation. Even at exorbitant prices, it is impossible in many instances, to buy the essential fresh eggs and milk in some of these so-called health resorts.

The individual suffering from tuberculosis needs to be free from worry and ordinary cares, so that he may use all of his strength in fighting the progress of his disease.

Sick Headache.

This distressing disease results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Get a free sample at F. L. Hinman & Co.'s drug store and try it.

Turkey Test

It Was Great, but It Drove One Man to Drink.

HE had been gazing long and earnestly at the rows of turkeys hanging from the hooks of a stand in Washington market, and the poultryman began to eye him suspiciously. He did not look like a thief, the mild look in his eye denoting anything but the gleam of acquisition. Still, his actions were not calculated to inspire confidence.

Every now and then he would walk up to the rack and feel a gobbler's breastbone, then stand off and take a side look at the fowl, moving around presently and gazing at it from the other side. In this way he would admire it from all points of view and seemed to derive immense satisfaction from the observation.

The poultryman was fast becoming nervous over these strange proceedings, and to put an end to his anxiety as to the man's intentions he approached him and asked:

"Well, sir, what can I do for you?" The man started and for a moment appeared to be disconcerted; but, recovering himself somewhat, he blushingly stammered:

"Why, you see, I don't quite know yet."

"Well, it's about time you did," gruffly replied the poultryman.

"Yes—I suppose so, but I don't. I want to get a turkey, but I want to be quite sure of my ground before I proceed."

The poultryman looked at him still more suspiciously.

"I dare say you will think me a little peculiar," continued the stranger, "but the fact is my wife is not very well, and she has sent me to buy the turkey for our Thanksgiving dinner. Now, I never bought a turkey in my life, and I don't want to make a mistake in it. I have full instructions from my wife, but still it requires great care to carry them out."

"Oh, if that's all," said the poultryman, reassured, "I will help you out."

"You will?" asked the man eagerly.

"With pleasure. What's the matter with this one?" And he took down a turkey and held it up to view.

"Does his breast move in or out under pressure?" asked the purchaser doubtfully.

"Try it for yourself."

"It seems flexible," said the man, gingerly pressing his fingers upon the part mentioned. "You know, my wife is a great judge of these things, and she told me all about it. Now about the color of the legs. They should be purplish blue, with just a tinge of gray."

"Well, there they are. You couldn't get anything nearer the description unless we painted them for you."

"No, no. I don't want 'em painted. She said the color should be natural. Now about the flesh. I want to pinch that and see that it is elastic."

"Veil, pinch," said the dealer.

The purchaser pinched and pinched until there was not an inch of the bird not fairly covered. Then he gave a sigh of satisfaction.

"That seems all right. But there's one thing more—the wings. You don't mind my twisting them according to my wife's instructions? She calls that the crowning test of tenderness."

And he delicately turned them around as he would the knob of a door. This done, he opened the beak and looked into the mouth, devoting considerable time to a minute examination of the tip of the tongue. Finally he announced his satisfaction, paid for the turkey and started off with it.

He reached the door, then suddenly turned.

"Great heavens! I forgot to examine the flexibility of the spur, and without being backed by that all other tests are useless."

But the poultryman had vanished into a nearby saloon and at that moment was engaged in toasting up his nerves for the next customer.—New York Herald.

OLD RESIDENT TO LEAVE.

Sam Marks, a resident of Onondaga County for over twenty-one years, has disposed of his farm and interests near the city and will leave with his family within a few days for Jamestown, N. D. Mr. Marks has purchased a tract of 320 acres of the farming land three miles out of that city and will engage in tilling the soil the same vocation which he has so successfully followed during his long residence in this county. On the farm there are ten head of horses and fifteen head of cattle and in a small way he will follow the live stock business.

Mr. Mark's departure from the county will be regretted as he has always been a good citizen.

WOMAN'S WOES.

Rhineland Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem as if women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop over means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and healthy is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. Perkins, of 33 Mercer Street, Rhineland, Wis., says: "I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I know them to be worthy of praise. My trouble was not of a serious nature but I was annoyed at times by a weakness of the kidneys. I also had severe headaches and felt dull and languid. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box at Reardon's drug store and found relief in a short time. Other members of my family have taken this remedy with the same good results."

WISCONSIN-CHICAGO FOOT BALL.

The great western foot ball championship game was played at Madison last Saturday before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a game on Marshall Field. It was exciting from start to finish. Chicago scored in half a minute after the game opened. While this touchdown was not won on a fuke, it was an uncommon thing otherwise the Wisconsin team would have tied Chicago. The final score was 18 to 12 in favor of Chicago. This is the first foot ball season in four years when Wisconsin has had to be reckoned with and certainly she has done herself proud. It is no disgrace to be defeated after a heroic fight.

Ted's Turkey

A Thanksgiving Story by Epes Winthrop
Sargent.

[Copyright, 1908, by M. M. Cunningham.]

"O you think it's a square deal?" demanded Teddy. "There's Tom Bolan. He works in his blacksmith shop all day and gets his face as black as an end man. Then he goes home and washes up, and he's all right. What difference does it make if I dab on zinc instead of dirt?"

"It isn't all that, Ted," said Sally. "Somehow you seem different." "Just because you saw me," he laughed bitterly. "Biff Brattle told me I was the limit, but I didn't suppose I was bad enough to queer my luck with you."

"I can't explain," said Sally impatiently. "But somehow when I saw you last summer with all the people laughing at you I—I couldn't be proud of you any more. I just felt ashamed to sit there and remember that I was engaged to you."

"And you waited all this time to tell me," he said scornfully. "Let me live on in that fool's paradise all this time? Why, I could have gone with the Fordhams this winter if I had wanted to, but I told Brattle that I'd come on to quarters just so I could be near you."

"I'm sorry, Ted," she said dully. "I like you still when I see you, but then every little while your face gets all white with the red marks on it, and I want to cry."

"Brattle was right," he said bitterly. "Let circus folk marry circus folk. They look deeper down than makeup."

"I suppose I ought to," said Sally. "But I just can't, Ted."

"All right," he said brusquely, trying to keep back the tears that would rise to his eyes. "I don't want the old ring back. I ain't got any one else to give it to. So long."

SLOWLY THE PROCESSION LUMBERED INTO THE YARD.

He climbed into the tiny road cart, cracked the whip, and the four ponies trotted off.

It was only four miles to Carstonville, where the Blakeley hippodrome, menagerie and circus lay in winter quarters, but every revolution of the little wheels seemed to put Sally—and happiness—miles behind.

Ted Stevens was a circus clown—not a very good one, but good enough for the one ring wagon show he traveled with. Last spring he had come down a few weeks before the opening to rehearse some bits of comedy, and he had met Sally Myerly.

She had never seen much of show folk, and she was attracted by his fun as well as by the wholesomeness of his manner. In the three weeks they saw each other Ted had won her heart. Then the show had gone south to open. It was midsummer before the slow moving outfit had come back to Carstonville to show, and that afternoon Ted had done his best because Sally was watching from the reserved seats. He had been rather disappointed at her lukewarm appreciation, but he did not realize what the matter was until he had come back with the show to go into winter quarters.

He had taken the meager salary offered to help care for the stock instead of playing at the vaudeville theaters through the winter, and it was with a happy heart that he took the pony four-in-hand out for exercise and had driven over to the Myerly farm.

He had received an enthusiastic welcome from ten-year-old Dick, but Sally had been cold, and at last she confessed that the sight of him in the ring had killed her love. Her ideas of romance were gleaned from cheap fiction, wherein English lords in disguise were more apt to be heroes than circus clowns. The sight of Ted in his motley had killed her ideals, and she wanted her freedom.

For the next couple of weeks he held to his work, trying in occupation to find forgetfulness. He had been rather clever with dogs once, and he got permission to try his hand at two of the ponies, just to occupy his mind, but in the long nights, when the silence was broken only by an occasional cry from the stock barn, he had plenty of time to think, for sleep came late to his tired eyes.

The day before Thanksgiving Thomas Myerly drew up at the sheds and climbed down from his seat. Ted saw him and went out to meet him.

"Sally wants to know if you won't bring them ponies over," he said,

"Dick liked 'em so, and the doctor says that perhaps they'll rouse him." "I'll see the old man," said Ted. "I guess it'll be all right, though. They need a run."

Permission was easily obtained when explanation was made, for the "old man" had youngsters of his own and a soft spot for children, and presently the gay little team was trotting down the frozen road.

Dick was brought to the window, well wrapped up, but he only waved a languid hand at the clown and turned his head away. Ted unlatched them and put them through their tricks, but with no greater success, and after he had put the team in the barn he went into the house.

"That's the first kid I ever saw that wasn't stuck on them ponies," he said. "What's the matter with him?"

"That's what we want to know," said a grave faced man who had been talking with Sally. "The little fellow seems to be sunk into a sort of coma, and we cannot rouse him. He will not eat, and unless we can give him a desire for food and interest him in things we shall just have to watch him slip away."

"You want to come out and look at them ponies, doc," said Ted suddenly. "Come on out to the barn."

The physician paused a moment. Then something passed in the glance of the two men, and they went out together. For half an hour they sat on an old wagon box and talked, and then the physician went back to the house and Ted hitched up the ponies. He drove out of the yard with a flourish of the whip toward Dick, who had been brought to the window to see him off. The little fellow answered with a weary wave of the hand, and Ted gritted his teeth as he drove off.

The next morning dawned clear and bright. It was almost Indian summer, and the windows were open in the Myerly home. Dick sat at the window, listlessly watching the people go driving by to church. Mrs. Myerly divided her time between the kitchen and the front parlor, to which Dick had been moved. A trumpet call sounded down the road, and she came hurrying in.

Around the bend, there dashed a rider all crimson and gold, mounted on a black horse gaudy in crimson housings. With a swing he was in the yard, and just before the window he blew another blast on his trumpet.

"A turkey for Master Myerly fit for a king!" he announced in approved ringmaster tones. Then the black horse backed away, bowing to the astonished child, and wheeled and dashed up the road again.

Presently the herald returned at a more stately pace, preceding the most curious procession that had ever traversed the Huntville road. Just behind the rider came a fantastic clown, either foot on the back of a milk white horse. Behind him lumbered a huge elephant drawing a glittering chariot ablaze with gold and mirrors.

Slowly the procession lumbered into the yard. At the gate the clown dismounted and threw haudsprings up to the very door. There he paused expectantly while the elephant ponderously turned into the yard. Then the doors at the back of the chariot swung open, and out fluttered a turkey six feet high. The clown sprang forward and with his whip made the bird face the window.

"Dick," he called, "here's your Thanksgiving turkey. If you don't eat every mouthful of it I'll make the elephant bite you."

"Elephants don't bite," laughed Dick, his face aglow with excitement. "This one does—bad," said Ted darkly. "You wait and see. Turkey, bow to the gentleman what's going to eat you."

Solemnly the bird pranced forward and bent its neck. Then it followed Ted around to the back of the house, and the cavalcade followed, turning into the road. Down beyond the bend Ted was waiting with the bird, but the cambrie skin covered with turkey feathers, the making of which had kept Ted up half the night, had been removed, and it was merely an ostrich that was huddled into the best chariot of the Blakeley outfit.

Late that night Ted turned up at the quarters. There had been a Thanksgiving dinner in the training ring, and all, from the "old man" to the hostlers, were sitting about on the benches swapping stories.

"Well," said the "old man" kindly. "did it work, Ted?"

"Did it work?" echoed Ted. "Say, I'm afraid the kid's more like to die of indigestion than starvation. He's all to the good. Everything's all to the good."

And the little group crowded about to shake his hand, for they knew that a romance seeking girl had at last really found the heart of the clown beneath the motley.

Nine Days' Thanksgiving.

In the time of Grecian prosperity and power that nation celebrated a feast very much resembling that of the Jews and supposedly borrowed from the latter. It was called the feast of Demeter or the Eleusinian mysteries, Demeter being the goddess of the cornfields, by whose especial favor only good harvests might be expected. The celebration continued during nine days, and offerings to the goddess were made, consisting of oblations of wine, honey and milk.

November.

The melancholy days have come. The flowers fade away. The crickets upward turn their toes. And early dies the day.

The mourning turkeys now are led to death, and, worse perhaps, the partridges, with muffled drums. Are sadly sounding taps.

Thanksgiving Pumpkin Pie

YOU may talk about your foreign cooks and all the things they make,

The thousand dainty dishes that they stew and boil and bake; You may prate about their wondrous skill in culinary arts, How deftly they can manufacture puddings, pies and tarts; Go praise the French and German chefs and the Italians, too, For making salads, sauces, soups and fancy dishes new, But for a toothsome morsel upon which I can rely Just give to me a solid wedge of Yankee pumpkin pie!

Let those of fashionable tastes turn up the nose in pride And think it quite plebeian to be simply satisfied; Let them eat their pate de foie gras, their truffles and such stuff With foreign names, suspicious looks and odors rank enough;

JUST GIVE TO ME A SOLID WEDGE OF YANKEE PUMPKIN PIE!

Let them eat those airy pastry puffs they think so very nice Because they've got outlandish names and cost a mighty price, But, say, to curb your appetite and your stomach satisfy There's nothing like a great big chunk of Yankee pumpkin pie!

Roast beef may have more nutriment, more body building worth; Veal, mutton, lamb, be nourishing and stretching of your girth; Your chicken, duck or turkey may suit palates very fine. But these can take a back seat when I'm passing down the line. Fish, flesh and fowl may serve to stay the appetites of some, But you must treat me better when I to your table come. Leave out the high toned viands, let each dainty dish go by. If I can get my face fast in a piece of pumpkin pie!

—John S. Grey in New York Tribune.

THANKSGIVING IN FRANCE.

M. Blanc's Surprise For His American Guests.

"The most un-American Thanksgiving I ever spent was in a French hotel ten years ago," says a woman contributor to the New York Globe. "The proprietor was a friendly old soul and liberal to a fault. He not only invited all the guests in the house to dinner, but he sent invitations to ex-guests as well. One family with whom he had spent the previous winter with him had gone home to America, leaving their daughter at school. Old M. Blanc sent an invitation to the school, and the demoiselle Amerle and a governess came to Paris and spent the day at the hotel. I had a country house near Paris then, but M. Blanc did not forget me either. So I went into Paris, taking my two girls with me. The hotel was a small one, but well known, and it was a rendezvous for many interesting Americans. The tables were decked with holly and mistletoe. M. Blanc in his ardent mixed up our American fetes. He moved about, smiling mysteriously and whispering to questioners that he had a surprise in store for us—a dessert which would make us all feel as if we were not in Paris at all, but back in that far off 'chez vous' whence we had come. There were much laughing and merriment, and we drank M. Blanc's health in his best wine as a mark of appreciation. His waiters soon appeared tottering beneath the weight of a huge plum pudding wreathed in holly and bearing an American and a French flag. Of course we heaped him with praise. He beamed and beamed, poured brandy over his chef d'oeuvre and lighted it, served it himself and said to each person as they thanked him: 'Did I not tell you you would feel chez vous? It is good and hot. Your national dish! Will you have some more fire?'"

"YOUR NATIONAL DISH."

HIS TURKEY WAS CROW.

Why the Fine Old Gentleman Hates Practical Politics.

"Bluest Thanksgiving I ever spent?" mused the fine old gentleman who has an unconquerable antipathy to practical politics. "It stands out in my memory like an obelisk on a plane, and it was not so very long ago either."

"I had been induced that fall to run for an important public office. It was done against my better judgment and under great pressure, but when a man enters such a fight he wants to win. I was in a close district and determined to put up the very best fight that the circumstances would permit. I advertised at once for an extra stenographer and from the many who responded selected a beautiful, bright and dashing young woman who justified my immediate faith in her ability. She did all my private correspondence, knew as much about the inside of the campaign as I did, working day and night with a willingness that was surprising, and even took from one of my shrewdest advisers the list of voters in the strongest section with which I had to contend, with full instructions as to how the most influential persons among them could be won to my cause. It was great work, and yet I felt several hundred short of the normal party vote."

"My successful opponent lived in a neighboring town and graciously invited me to be his guest on the following Thanksgiving. It would have looked surly to refuse, and I went. It was really an admirable social function, but the few hours I put in there were torture. The host met me with a hearty hand clasp. Turning he said, 'My wife.' Resplendent in satin and jewels I saw my stenographer. 'Love and war,' she murmured. 'He thinks I was visiting my old home in New England.' I held my peace, but that fattened turkey tasted like crow."—Detroit Free Press.

Fatherly Advice.

"The farmer," said the young turkey, "seems to be very fond of me. He throws the choicest morsels of corn to me every day and in many ways shows his admiration for me."

"Well," advised the old turkey, "I wouldn't let it go on if I were you. You are apt to lose your head over it."

The Athletes' Dinner.

De Style—What makes you think the Farrants are going to have a regular athletic Thanksgiving dinner?

Gunbust—Why, they had their turkey killed with a golf club and stuffed with tennis balls.
